

SCARECROW INVASION

During the Autumn half term week the scarecrows will be returning to Fernhill Heath! Last year saw even more fabulous and inventive scarecrows springing up all over the village. Can you help us beat last year's numbers and make it a true invasion?? BBC Hereford and Worcester came out to make a short video and also aired the story on the radio. As a result, lots of visitors came, and along with local people and families, happily and excitedly, followed the scarecrow trail round the village. The competition will again take place in the October half term week. All scarecrows will need to be in position ready for judging on Wednesday morning October 30th. Why not make it a superb day out, as like last year, delicious refreshments will be served at the Baptist Church, O'Keys Lane during the day. Copies of the route will be obtainable from October 27th at the Mace/Post Office store in the village and online Facebook page - events on the Brum Fernhill Heath. The judging and prize giving will be by Fernhill House Care Home who are kindly sponsoring the event.
